DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 9-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 9, "said first predetermined size" lacks proper antecedent basis.

Claim 10 is confusing, because the second occurrence of "in a second chamber" fails to distinguish from that of the first occurrence.

Claim 11, "said chamber" is indefinite for failing to specifically define which of the two chambers previously recited.

Claim 13, "said cutting head" should be more positively defined.

Claim 14, "said first and second stages" lacks proper antecedent support.

Claim 15, last line, " a first predetermined size" fails to structurally distinguish from the same in line 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 15 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ryan (US 6,176,311).

The housing is met by the top sub 10 which comprises a first chamber or inner sleeve 26, and a second chamber or slotted liner 16. Both chambers are used to entrain or reduce the size of particles to a predetermined sized as cuttings carried fluid passes through openings 28 and slots 22 of sleeve and liner (col. 3, lines 5-47). The step of directing the returning fluid to a selected wellbore device is anticipated by col. 3, lines 42-47, where another apparatus A is mounted further uphole.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Davenport (US 6,045,070).

The operator is met by the inline grinder 12, which reduces the particles to a predetermined size. The energy generating field fails to distinguish from the energy generated by motor M.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9-14 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 15-18 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

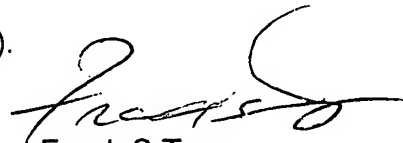

Claims 1-8 are allowed.

Claims 20, 22-28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
